PHARMACY LABELS

- The pharmacy label contains important information from the prescription that you must have to safely and correctly give the medication.
- The pharmacy label should give at least as much information as the prescription.
- Med containers frequently have small stickers attached giving special directions for storage or administration (such as: take with milk, take on an empty stomach, refrigerate). Write those into the MAR. They are really important.
- If the label says, “Take on an empty stomach”, the medicine will not work if they just ate cheesy fries.
- If you are not sure what a sticker means, call the pharmacist. They love to explain this stuff.

PHARMACY LABELS

- All prescription containers MUST bear a label with AT LEAST the following information...
- LABELS MUST BE LEGIBLE and COMPLETE WITH:
  - Pharmacy name, phone number, and address
  - Prescription number
  - Consumer's name (name of recipient)
  - Date prescription was most recently dispensed
  - Prescriber's name
  - Directions for use (Schedule of administration)
  - The name of the medication
  - Amount/Quantity dispensed
  - Strength of medication
  - Dosage of medication
  - Expiration Date

PHARMACY LABELS

- Additional Information on the label...
  - Refill Instructions/Refills Available
  - Initials/Name of the Pharmacist
